Southern Railway Trying to Help the Good Work Along—Dairying Train to Have Right of Way.

CHARLOTTESVILLE. VA., August 15.—The Southern Railway Company announces that, in order to further encourage the development of dairying in Virginia, it will send its special "dairy instruction car" over its lines in the State for another complete tour. Commencing "ere August 24, the car will visit fifty-three points in all sections of the State served by the Southern Railway and Danville and Western Railway. An entire day will be de-Railway. An entire day will be de-voted to each stop, and illustrated lec-tures and demonstrations on improved methods of dairying will be conducted morning and afternoon by a corps of expert dairymen, who will accompany the car.

The intinery will take up fifty-three days, exclusive of Sundays, from August 24 to October 22. The one-day stopping points are from Charlottes-ville, south to Danville, then on the Danville and Western Road to Stuart, then from Danville toward Blobust. then from Danville toward Richmo

Danville and Western Road to Stuart, then from Danville toward Richmond and beyond to West Point, then on the Keysville line to the Norfolk-Danville line as far east as Suffolk, taking in the James River Narrow Guage line to Claremont, on James River.

The dairy instruction car has previously toured practically the same territory, and the interest it aroused among dairymen and farmers at every point visited was so keen that Southern Railway is sending it out again to follow up the work, and give those who failed to attend before an opportunity to hear the lectures and learn of the opportunities which Virginia offers to dairymen, who will develop this industry and supply the great home demand for milk and butter. The car is fitted out like a complete farm dairy, and carries charts and exhibits giving complete information about dairying and its problems. Another Virginin Town Proposes to Make a Little Experiment.

BRISTOL, VA., August 15.—The City Council has adopted a resolution which reads as follows:

"The matter of placing the business affairs of the city of Bristol, Va., in the hands of one man has been under consideration for some time. There were a large number of applications for the position of water commissioner, but the Council deferred the election of a successor to the late Frank Collman on this account. The city has not had an engineer for the past two months, and it is planned to consolidate these three departments under a capable man of wide experience in such lines."
